“Each life is important, let us be a part of important events in the community that supports life”.

October is the month dedicated to hundred thousands of victims and families of breast cancer every year our hearts goes to the affected individuals and their families. This is also a month to remind people that new technology can save the victims on early detection and treatment of the mentioned disease and therefore, encourage them to obtain check-up from the early stage that it is suspected to appear in the body.
